

2026 CATALOGUE

RFD are pleased to be able to offer these products to you

We refuse to rest on our laurels at Range Right, and our commitment to growing and advancing the business has resulted in, for the first time in our history, the production of our second catalogue in less than a year. Our portfolio has changed significantly as we welcome several new brands into the fold, and you will find them alongside our longer established partnerships in this publication.

The Range Right team and I are honoured to work with an ever-growing range of leading brands. We strive to deliver a lineup of guns, optics and accessories that we have absolute faith in, and pride ourselves on liaising closely with the people behind the products to ensure that end users get the right kit at the right price.

New names in this catalogue include premium Czech airgun brand Taipan and sister company Valiant Optics as exclusive partners. We are also delighted to welcome BSA Guns, Gamo and Daisy. BSA Guns is a famous British gunmaker with a rich manufacturing heritage producing some of the finest airguns in the world at its Birmingham base – we look forward to seeing that enviable legacy continue long into the future. BSA Guns and their stablemates, Gamo and Daisy, cover the whole spectrum of airguns from dependable budget-priced break-barrels for youngsters and newcomers to high-performance PCPs for serious hunters and target shooters. They make a worthy addition to the depth and breadth of our airgun offerings as this crucial branch of shooting sports continues to grow and thrive.

This is a really exciting time for us. While it is a privilege to take on these iconic brands, our absolute commitment to delivering the highest standard of service to all our partners remains as strong as ever. Instead of being spread more thinly by a growing portfolio, we have increased our team to bolster and further improve the Range Right operation.

I am proud to say that Kral, Reximex, Crosman, Konus, Megaline, Sabatti and Beartooth are still at the backbone of our portfolio as exclusive partners, and we take equal pride in our association with the many other successful global brands that sit within our ever-growing lineup.

Gratifying as it is to reflect on past successes, we always have an eye to the future. Our industry is never without its challenges, but we have learnt how to weather the storms. Creating and sustaining brand awareness is a key strategy when it comes to maintaining healthy sales figures, and we work closely with some of the biggest names across a range of media to ensure that our brands are embraced by the widest possible audience.

I would like to conclude by extending my heartfelt thanks to our team who work tirelessly to ensure the Range Right wheels remain well-oiled. And to you, our valued customers, it is an honour to share the Range Right journey with you.

BSA SINCE 1861

In a little over 150 years BSA has grown from a small union of gunsmiths to become one of Britain's important industrial groups. The story is not entirely one of steady progress and expansion, there is drama and excitement too. And because BSA has served its country more directly than most private concerns, its story is also part of Britain's history.

Setting new standards of quality and reliability, Essential scopes are exactly that, an essential part of any serious air rifle shooter's equipment. Since their launch in 2006, they have enabled shooters to take the honours at many competitive events and become the first choice for hunters and professional pest controllers across the globe.

Packed with advanced features the Essential starts with a one piece body of high grade aluminium and has a fast focus eye bell, finger adjustable turrets, fully multi-coated lenses, and a choice of reticles amongst which is the BSA mil-dot. 'Air Gunner' magazine described this as 'probably the best mil-dot reticle available', because unlike many inferior scopes the dots are not spread out, but concentrated where they are needed, in the centre of the pattern.

VC SILENCER
The only airgun silencer you will ever need. This latest-generation silencer actually allows the shooter to match its internal specification to suit the calibre of the rifle. A supplied allen key permits the removal of the end of the silencer, so that different size restrictors can be fitted, so increasing or decreasing the muzzle aperture according to calibre to maximise the reduction in noise-energy as the pellet leaves the moderator. This 'variable choke' facility turns a silencer into one of the most useful hunting accessories of all time.

PCP ELECTRIC COMPRESSOR

The BSA electric compressor comes with a 240v power lead and plug allowing it to be used from a domestic socket or alternatively it has jump lead style crocodile grips to connect it to a standard car battery. All you need to do is plug it into your PCP and power it on. It also has a gauge that can be set to the desired fill volume and it will automatically turn itself off preventing over filling. A spares kit is also provided in the box. Our standard filler probes can be used via a quick fill.

TAIPAN SLASH

THE NEW ERA OF PCP AIRGUNS HAS JUST BEGUN.

Subtle design, self-indexing firing mode, outstanding performance. These are only some of the many strengths of the revolutionary PCP airgun that just came off Taipan's production line.

At first glance, it's clear this tactical PCP is not just another follow-up to the Veteran lineage. This is a completely new air rifle, designed from the ground up with zero carry over parts from its predecessors. That is why, instead of calling it the Veteran III, the creators gave it a short and fitting name, the SLASH.

The crucial element of Taipan's new flagship is its self-indexing firing mode, allowing up to 12 shots to be fired in quick succession. Combined with a new, patented revolutionary valve with extraordinary opening and closing speed, this masterpiece offers superior performance while maintaining minimal air consumption. A cherry on top is the ability to fire slug ammunition without any necessary tweaks.

Overall, the entire airgun is a masterful synergy of top-tier performance, groundbreaking innovation, and premium craftsmanship. Every detail - from the carefully selected high-grade materials that ensure long-lasting durability and reliability to the refined engineering that guarantees flawless operation and accuracy - speaks to an uncompromising standard not found in any other PCP.

TAIPAN VETERAN II TACTICAL

SECOND GENERATION OF THE ACCLAIMED PCP BULLPUP IS HERE.

The new tactical iteration of the Taipan Veteran II rifle is aimed at customers who prefer a more modern and tactical look and want something a bit more unorthodox.

Taipan Veteran II Tactical comes outfitted with a 480cc kevlar bottle for increased air volume. The free-floating barrel is fully shrouded and has an extended sound moderator.

The Veteran II Tactical is available in walnut, synthetic and laminate versions. The tactical version comes in two stock variants; you have the choice of a full body bullpup stock or AR-15 pistol grip. The AR-15 grip gives this model great ergonomic properties and can be swapped for any after market AR-15 grip. The butt stock features a rubber butt pad for increased comfort while taking aim and shooting.

The CZ Barrels come in two lengths, 550mm or 700mm.

All models available in .177, .22 & .25 calibre.

TAIPAN VETERAN II

It's now time to introduce the latest iteration of the Taipan Veteran – the Veteran II. So much more than just an upgraded version of the first-gen Veteran. Think of it as a completely new rifle, which builds upon the success of its predecessor and takes it even further.

In 2025, Taipan began producing an updated version of the Veteran II which includes several tweaks. The only thing that remained the same is the trigger mechanism. You can't improve on perfection as they say and the trigger on the Veteran II is as crisp as ever.

The modified version is newly equipped with the popular ADF (Anti Double Feed) system, which prevents loading a pellet into the barrel if there is already one inside. Additional changes apply to the side lever handle, which now offers a tactical look with a grooved surface and can be changed to the left or right hand side.

The Veteran comes supplied with the external sound moderator illustrated below and a picatinny rail

- ADF (Anti Double Feed) system
- Fully adjustable Unique Trigger Mechanism
- 40mm Airtube
- 311cc Cylinder
- External sound moderator
- Picatinny rail
- Ambidextrous side lever
- Free Floating Barrel - Increased accuracy in all conditions
- Barrel length available in 550mm or 700mm
- Single shot tray Included

350 YEARS of gunmaking tradition

350 years ago, Lodovico Sabatti was born in Val Trompia, the founder of what would become one of the oldest families in the entire panorama of the global arms industry, still active today.

Active in Gardone Val Trompia since the early 18th century, in addition to building excellent flintlock pistols, "l'archibusaro" (gun maker) Lodovico Sabatti was also an appreciated "cannoniere" (barrel maker).

Giuseppe Sabatti was also an esteemed and skilled manufacturer of firearms, active in Gardone Val Trompia between 1760 and 1815.

In the first half of the 19th century, another Giuseppe Sabatti specialized in the manufacturing of barrels, considered among the best makers of Damascus barrels.

Then, between 1840 and 1880, the Master barrel maker Domenico Sabatti and the gun maker Giovanni Sabatti were active.

In addition to barrels, the Sabatti family has always been active in the manufacturing of locks, the shooting systems, which today we call "actions".

In fact, when in 1848 the provisional government of Brescia asked the artisans of Val Trompia "not for blood, but for their work in defence of the homeland", four out of ten steel workers were Sabatti.

There are many members of the various branches of the Sabatti family who over the years, alone or in partnership with others, have carried on these activities up to the present day.

However, it was in the immediate post-war period (1946) that Antonio Sabatti in partnership with Giuseppe Tanfoglio brought new strength to the production of components for hunting rifles, this time preferring the manufacturing of locks.

Around 1956 the two partners also began the production of semi-automatic pistols for personal defence, but after four years the company was dissolved, assigning each of the two partners a different sector of activity.

Following this separation, in 1960 Antonio Sabatti's sons established a new company which has grown since then and gained an important role in the global panorama of sporting weapons manufacturers.

Today, Emanuele, Antonio and Marco, nephews of Antonio Sabatti, continue to produce increasingly better hunting and target rifles, more than ever meeting the expectations of customers all over the world.

And still today the strengths of Sabatti guns are in the quality of the barrels and the actions.

MULTI-RADIAL RIFLING

Sabatti - MRR® (Multi-Radial Rifling)

MULTI-RADIAL RIFLING SYSTEM DESIGNED AND INTRODUCED BY SABATTI S.P.A.

- HIGHER BULLET SPEED
- IMPROVED GROUP CONCENTRATION
- REDUCED NUMBER OF FLIERS
- LESS COPPER DEPOSITS
- LESS CLEANING REQUIRED
- EASIER CLEANING WHEN NEEDED
- LESS BARREL WEAR

Sabatti S.p.A. has designed and introduced a new precision rifling profile called MULTI-RADIAL (MRR®) with unique features over that of traditional rifling.

The objective was to develop a rifling system with all the positives of the traditional type and none of the negatives.

If you compare the TRADITIONAL RIFLING (pic. 1 below) with the POLYGONAL (pic. 2 below) and the MULTI-RADIAL ones (pic. 3 below), you will see that the last one is ideal with both traditional and monolithic bullets.

With MULTI-RADIAL barrels (pic. 3) two different radiuses alternate in order to positively grip the bullet geometrically without submitting it to extreme stress.

As a matter of fact, the bullets are pressure formed following a circumference and not cut like in traditional rifling (pic. 1) which extends the life cycle of the barrel. Also there is no sharp corner to fill like in the other rifling systems (pic. 1 & 2), therefore the barrel is cleaner and wears more slowly.

All tests we have carried out prove that:

MULTI-RADIAL barrels perform better and with more accuracy than barrels with traditional rifling using traditional lead bullets in cal. 7,62 mm (.308") and cal. 6,5 mm (.264") as well as monolithic bullets.

Speed is higher than with traditional rifling - up to 12% under certain circumstances - at standard pressure values. Bullets seal the barrel bore better thus preventing gas from escaping forward and optimizing the effect of the propelling energy. Also friction between bullets and barrel is reduced to the minimum.

Group concentration is substantially improved due to the extremely tight manufacturing tolerances that can be kept while manufacturing MULTI-RADIAL barrels. As a matter of fact the multi-radial rifling lends itself perfectly to our cold hammer forging. The resulting rifling profile consistency is excellent and the overall quality of our barrels is increased.

The specific rifling geometry of the forcing cone in MULTI-RADIAL barrels makes it possible for the chamber neck and freebore to guide the bullets into the rifling more precisely and steadily than with the traditional rifling system - the bullet matches the barrel axis in the best possible way thus reducing the fliers.

Under similar circumstances - less copper deposits inside MULTI-RADIAL barrels and, therefore, less cleaning is required. Also, when needed, cleaning is much easier to do than with traditional rifling. Shooters can improve MULTI-RADIAL barrel performance by simply lapping the bore with abrasive paste pads with no fear of ruining the rifling edges like with traditional rifling.

These are all the reasons why MULTI-RADIAL rifling is truly ideal for target and competition shooting and is requested by almost all our shooters. And that is why now all Sabatti target rifles in cal. 308 Win. and most cal. 6,5x47 Lapua come with MULTI-RADIAL rifling.

At Sabatti we believe we have reached the objective we had while designing the new system and, by doing so, we have exceeded our expectations.

With a lightweight chassis and a new action designed for the .223 Remington, the new Sabatti ST-223 rifle is made for shooting competitions.

The Sabatti ST-223 bolt-action rifle represents the sum of many years of Sabatti experience in the production of precision shooting rifles. The Sabatti ST-223 stands out for the design of the new chassis and barrel, and for the mix of features making it suitable for many precision shooting uses.

The ST-223 rifle action is designed to handle the .223 Remington calibre with maximum reliability. The three-lug bolt is machined from a single block of special high-strength steel, then heat-treated, chrome-plated and rectified to obtain very low roughness of the contact surfaces and guarantee a smooth action. A robust 17-4PH steel extractor offers superior levels of resistance and safety when using high and very high pressure loads. The rifle is fed by a 7-round detachable Sabatti polymer magazine.

The main feature of the new Sabatti ST-223 is in the 7075 aluminium alloy chassis, completely redesigned; compared to the chassis of the Sabatti STR Sport and ST-18 models, the ST-223 rifle chassis design is lighter. The rifle comes standard with an AR-15 derived barrel handguard with M-LOK slots but is compatible with the two Sabatti forearms of the STR Sport model, namely the basic one with M-LOK slot and ARCA-Swiss rail, or the F-Class shooting forearm with Anschütz rail.

The polymer stock of the Sabatti ST-223 is foldable and skeletonised to contain the overall weight, with an adjustable cheek piece and equipped with a Bag Rider on the rear, lower surface; interfaced to the chassis via a threaded connection, it can be removed and replaced with an AR-15/M4 type buffer tube for the installation of aftermarket AR-15 compatible stocks.

The STR-223 rifle features a Sabatti Premium cold hammer forged barrel with conventional rifling, 24" long with a 22mm muzzle diameter and UNEF 1/2 x 28 thread for the installation of accessories such as flash hiders, muzzle brakes, compensators, or sound moderators.

The rifle is equipped with a Picatinny rail, mounted as standard on the action, for the fitting of riflescopes, and a Sabatti three lever Match type trigger group.

Hunting on tough terrain imposes some specific critical issues and hunters know that one of these is the weight of their equipment. For this reason rifles with carbon fibre stocks are increasing in popularity. The Sabatti Rover Carbon stands out from all the others for the quality of its stock, a real monocoque, in 100% pure carbon fibre. Sabatti patented and unique in its kind on a rifle weighing just 2.5kg. ROVER RIFLES

Sabatti presents the new ROVER family of rifles, a completely redesigned set of bolt-action rifles intended for hunting, sport shooting and professional uses. The new Sabatti Rover range carries on the high quality, high accuracy tradition and centuries of experience.

The new Sabatti Rover action is a completely new design, made from a solid billet of Ergal 55, precision machined to minimize manufacturing induced tolerances, then hard anodized. The receiver comes with an integral Picatinny rail allowing the mount of riflescopes or other aiming devices.

The new bolt for the Sabatti Rover is CNC machined from a bar of steel and comes in a chrome or matte black finish, depending on model.

The quality of the new three lug, 60° opening throw bolt, along with a new sturdy extractor and a removable knob, make the new Sabatti Rover action one of the best in the market.

The cold-hammer forged barrel makes use of traditional rifling out of manufacturing processes that have been further improved, and boasts all the accuracy Sabatti rifles are famed for. Of particular importance, the barrel comes fitted with a barrel extension which allows ease of barrel interchangeability, without any need for adjusting the head space.

Depending on the model, the rifles are available in a different choice of calibres, barrel lengths, profiles, with or without muzzle brakes or flash hiders; standard or match trigger or AICS compatible removable magazines.

The stocks on each model of the new Rover are all different; whether that be material or finish but all stocks come complete with an adjustable cheek piece, recoil pad and a multi-purpose steel plate in the forend to allow fitting of a bipod.

The Sabatti Rover family of rifles includes different models and configurations to allow hunters, shooters and professionals to choose the version best fitting their own purposes.

The new Sabatti Rover range of rifles offer all the accuracy, ruggedness and reliability of the Sabatti tradition; more than 350 years of Italian gun making experience at the most affordable price.

ZEPHYR

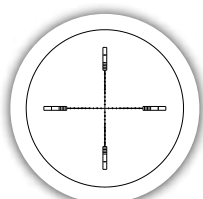

Zephyr is a premium line of our riflescopes that meets the highest standards and demands on the market. Reinforced single-piece tube made of aircraft-grade aluminium is filled with nitrogen to prevent fogging. The glass etched reticle is extremely durable and it can withstand the recoil of high calibre firearms. It is also located in the second focal plane (SFP) so the magnification has no effect on the size of the reticle. You can choose between 2 reticles and 3 levels of magnification. Completely redesigned and easily resettable turrets with Zero Stop mechanism are surely a great addition with the second generation of this product series. Equipped with an adjustable side parallax with a range from 10 yards to infinity making it ideal for all shooting disciplines. Side parallax is followed with the illumination knob with easy and comfortable manipulation even with gloves. Red colour illumination in 11 levels of intensity is always appreciated in low light conditions or if the target does not have enough contrast with the reticle.

This is the pellet for those close-to-medium range hunting situations where maximum knockdown potential is essential.
